The trigger is a tweet by Chitra Wagh, vice-chief of the BJP's state unit, but it was Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis who'd led the party's charge against Mr Rathod as Leader of Opposition not long ago. Mr Rathod, who was Forest Minister in Uddhav Thackeray's cabinet, had to resign due to the case. Eknath Shinde has defended including him now: "He's been given the clean chit by police after investigation during the previous government. That's why we have made him a minister. We will speak to anyone who has an objection." He was reacting to Ms Wagh's tweet and video, in which she said, "It is very unfortunate that Sanjay Rathod, who caused the death of Maharashtra's daughter Pooja Chavan, has been given the post of minister again... I will continue my fight against him." remove these template messages) This article contains content that is written like an advertisement.
